Nursing institute gives view of problems nurses encounter

Eleven WSC nursing students attended the annual Fall Institute of the Minnesota Nursing Students Association at the St. Paul Ramsey Hospital on November 18.

The nurses who attended from the WSC nursing program are: Janet Hegtvedt, Rochester; Cathy Walters, Bloomington; Jean Fiedler, Fountain City, Wisc.; Ray Hegtvedt, Rochester; Lynn Schumann, Eyota; Judy Swigart, Winona; Sandra Runningan, Winona; Joan Whorton, Winona; Diane Peutz, Winona; Karen Biel, Harmony; Karen Meistad, Arcadia, Wisc.

THE PROGRAM began at 9:30 a.m. with an address by Dr. Elmina Price, nurse-researcher, St. Luke's Hospital, St. Paul, presenting, "Confusion at the Core of Hospital Care." This address included facts, figures and examples of what nurse practitioners are being asked to do in contrast to their preparation — and the implications, particularly for nursing education. This was followed by a reaction panel consisting of a physician, a hospital administrator, a nursing educator, and a general duty registered nurse.

During the afternoon session, Mrs. Val Nordin, member of the American Nurses Association Committee on Economic and General Welfare, spoke on "Economic Urgency," a topic which has been making headlines throughout the nation as nurses strive for salary increases. Eugene Johnson, nursing student, Gustavus Adolphus College, Department of Nursing, and member of the National Student Nurses Association Committee on Intergroup Relations, related the activities of the committee and explained how the nursing students in Minnesota can become actively involved in this project. To conclude the afternoon session Virginia Johnson, nursing student at St. Luke's Hospital School of Nursing, Duluth, and member of the Minnesota Nursing Students Association Committee on Nominations, presented "Leadership for Action."

THE INSTITUTE was one of two annual meetings of the Minnesota Nursing Students Association in its effort to fulfill the purpose of the organization which is to aid in the preparation of students for the assumption of professional responsibilities.

Sociology students work with local social agencies

Sociology students from both WSC and the College of Saint Teresa are participating in an unusual work-study program throughout the city of Winona.

The courses, titled Social Work, are directed by Professor Larry Connell of WSC and Professor Paul Koprowski of St. Teresa's.

ALTHOUGH each college conducts its own separate courses and they are not connected in any way, they are still very similar.

The program, which is only three years old at Winona State and has been in existence at St. Teresa's since 1944, trains students for positions as social workers.

After the prerequisite classes are completed, the students are assigned to various social agencies to work with the people directly involved.

SINCE THE program is offered during the regular academic year at WSC, the students generally are assigned to this area and Rochester.

Some of the participating agencies include: Watkins Memorial Home, welfare, juvenile division of the police department, YMCA, YWCA, Youth Vocational Center, Catholic Charities, and the Boy Scouts.

"These agencies have always cooperated fully with the school," said Connell, "even though at times it may have meant extra work for their personnel."

"THE PHILOSOPHY behind the course," Connell commented, "is that social work skills can best be learned by integrating theoretical and practical knowledge under the supervision of a professional in the area."

The students receive three hours of classroom work every week, and spend four or five hours at the agencies, for one quarter.

TEKE's form colony on campus

James Miller, field representative of Tau Kappa Epsilon, International, pledged a group of Winona State men as the Winona State TEKE Colony Saturday Night.

Tau Kappa Epsilon is the largest national social fraternity, with 224 chapters and 15 colonies. The group began formation this quarter and is endeavoring to achieve the status of national chapter within a year.

SEVERAL objectives the colony has set forth are:

Primarily, to fashion academic achievement, not in word only, but in deed, through the establishment of an academic committee, which shall promote intelligent and worthwhile attitudes of scholarship. The colony presently has approximately a 3.0 grade point average.

To provide services to the individual through group participation and to the college through group endeavor.

To sponsor, but at the same time, to sensibly limit and put in their proper proportion, social activities, beneficial rather than detrimental to the individual.

the province supervisor of Tau Kappa Epsilon, and plans to rush early winter quarter.

Present officers are Fred Bar-anski and Robert Grim, co-chairmen. Others working on the constitution are Richard Armstrong, David Jones and David Kulas.

Jazz concert Mon.; Heyer to direct band

Winona State's Jazz Band, under the direction of Fred Heyer, will present a Jazz Concert in Somsen Auditorium on Monday.

The concert will begin at 8 p.m., and the program is: Kenny's Blues, by Ralph Mutchler; Delightssomely, by Bob Seibert; I Remember Basie, by Dick Feno; Alto Soliloquy, by Bob Seibert; Fox and Hound, by Jacoby and Seibert; Just 4 Fun, by Bob Farrar; Touch of Satin, by Bob Beigler; and Reciprocity by Russ Garcia.

SMALL COMBO numbers will be announced, and the concert will close with Take the A Train arranged by Fred Heyer; Cinnamon Kisses, arranged by Marshal Brown; Bill Bailey, Won't

You Please Come Home, arranged by Fred Heyer; Drum Solo, by Dave Heyer, and Extra Innings by Max Roberts.

Those playing trumpets in the concert are Gary Urness, Mike Tentis, Leonard Purrington, Doug Wood, and Terry Vatland. Trombones will be played by Dave Knight, Carol Jeché, Lynn Hyntoon, and Rick Anderson. On the saxes will be Fred Heyer, Ken Maddux, Avis Loven, Karel Bunsness, and Charles Fox, and the rhythm by Dave Heyer on the drums, Kathy Moe, bass; and Jerry Lehmeier on the piano.

The small combo will be made up of Jerry Lehmeier, Dave Heyer, Ralph Benike, Fred Heyer, Bob Klein, and Doug Wood, Sr.

Senior picture due date reset

The deadline for senior pictures for the WENONAH has been pushed back, according to Carol Benson of the yearbook staff. The new deadline is Monday, Dec. 12, and pictures must be delivered to Somsen, Room 313.

The requirements, for those who missed them in the Sept. 29, issue are:

1. Picture size — 3 by 4½ inches. Head size — 1½ inches, measured from the top of the chin to the top of the head. The distance from the top of the head to the upper edge of the paper must be at least ½ inch.
2. The picture must be a glossy print.
3. Extreme poses, such as profile or glamour poses, WILL POSITIVELY NOT BE ACCEPTED even though that may be the only kind of pose taken for your graduation picture. NO drapes will be accepted.
4. The background is to be very light gray, approximately 80 per cent. No backgrounds are to be shaded from dark to light.
5. Each print must be free of writing on front or back. It must be handed in between cardboard and in the envelope supplied by the photographer. At the top of the envelope must be written your name.

6. The WENONAH staff may refuse any picture which is not suitable for its use.

Several group photos for the annual were cancelled this week because the groups failed to show, according to Sandy Bidro, organizations editor.

This is causing great difficulty for the staff and photographer, so all clubs are urged to be present when their club photograph is rescheduled.

The schedule for Tuesday, Dec. 6, in G-155 is:

- 4 p.m.—Ski and Outing Club.
- 4:15 —Men's residence hall.
- 4:25—Girls R.A.
- 5:00—WPE.
- 5:15—Winonan.
- 5:30—Kappa Delta Pi.
- 5:45—WSSA.
- 6:00—Young Republicans.

SS revision foreseen

Many good ideas came out of the mock elections for the Student Senate, held just before Thanksgiving Vacation.

The candidate's proposed investing more power, or exercising the already existing power in areas that badly need revision. The Student Senate, they pointed out, is present to represent the students, something that is not adequately done.

THE PROPOSALS they brought forth for revising the Student Senate were well thought out, and deserve thought. Such things as having the senators who represent a certain group be elected by those directly involved would seem to provide better representation for those areas, than the commonly held school-wide elections.

Why not have the dormitory senator elected only by the religious clubs?

Another proposal the Student Senate might look into is having an off-campus representative. This area is sadly lacking, and a glance at the Student Senate roster shows an overbalance of representation in some others and deficiency in others.

SOME OF THE senators on the Student Senate do work consciously, while others merely slide along. Some senators try to better the campus, another has not even called a meeting of clubs that senator represents!

As a new administration will make several revisions, how about revising the Student Senate, it is long overdue.

SS under critical review

by J. M. Wierzba

A critical review of the SS was the point of discussion at the Nov. 21 meeting. President Louie Kanavati asked those present to voice their pros and cons on the workmanship of this year's governing body.

Responsibility of the individual senators and the student body was heavily debated. Jim Evenson defined the SS as a "recommending power and a force of student opinion." Yet the general consensus was that a more forceful SS was needed.

MR. CHARLES LANE, speech instructor, said, "The SS can be visualized as a paper tiger since they say they can only recommend. But a paper tiger has no teeth. One thing they can do with their 'recommending' power is to publish past tests of teachers and place them on library reserve for all students." Published student evaluation of teachers was suggested. The effectiveness of these methods would determine if the SS could influence any academic changes at WSC.

As a follow-up meeting, Tuesday's SS business included the formation of a committee to evaluate WSC instructors.

A recommendation for a revision of the Student Citizenship Committee submitted by John Ross included recommendations for a board of eleven: six students and four faculty with voting power, and one faculty member as a non-voting chairman. Since this committee deals with student discipline, it was felt that representation from the student body should be in majority. This suggestion will be submitted to the Personal and Guidance Committee and in turn to the Faculty Senate.

Reporter asks

Is SS doing job?

To the Editor:

After attending ten SS meetings this fall, I have seen a lack of interest and participation among the student body, faculty, and senators themselves.

One senator told me, November 21, her reason for seeking candidacy last spring was twofold: the competition was slight, and the duties for the office were few. Is she an adequate senator?

AMONG THE 3000 students at WSC, why do only 17 senators, 35 club representatives, and about 10 additional interested individuals attend the weekly meetings? Are not all of you concerned, or do you belong to that "Don't Care" generation?

Some ask why doesn't the Student Senate do more for WSC? One answer may be that the channel through which SS suggestions go through may not be adequate. Our student governing body is responsible to the Personnel and Guidance Committee, but the faculty representatives of this group have never attended a SS meeting this fall quarter.

Nothing important can be done unless more active participation and interest is given to the Student Senate.

Mrs. Stadler clarifies issues

To the editor:

It is the purpose of this letter to clarify three points:

- (1) William Christen is a member of the Residence Hall staff, specifically acting as Head Resident of Morey-Shepard, a complex housing approximately two hundred men.
- (2) Two letters to the editor (November 17 issue of Winonan) state that Mr. Christen "stood around during the entire rally/riot" by his own admission in his letter to the editor (November 10 issue of Winonan).
 - a. Mr. Christen did not say this in his letter.
 - b. Mr. Christen did not "stand around" during the gathering - at the King-Street intersection - after the Homecoming - snake dance. I can personally verify that he did not "stand around."
- (3) It is our opinion that Mr. Christen acted efficiently and with consideration for the welfare of the students.

New fraternity Tau Kappa Epsilon thanks Greeks

To the Editor,

As members of the Winona State TEKE Colony, we should like to extend a word of thanks to the fraternities and sororities on campus for their immediate, favorable recognition of our group at the recent Greek dance.

Specifically may we thank Frank Hayes and Jim Evenson of Sigma Tau Gamma, Tim Dalton of Phi Sigma Epsilon, John Hennessey of Phi Delta Rho, and Gayle Christofferson of Alpha Xi Delta for their kind offers of assistance in organizing this college's newest national fraternity. We also suggest that any interested men contact either of the undersigned.

Lane's weekly letters annoy grad student

To the editor:

I would guess that the relative majority of the student body is somewhat annoyed at the way Mr. Charles Lane, Instructor of Speech and part-time county agent, has been waving his finger around at the student body, as being slob, sloppy students, and about ten other things I can't recall just now. (Man, he sure has found a lot of rotten things about the kids since he's been here, hasn't he?) It seems as if he has taken on the role of self-appointed guiding light, or something.

The one thing that bothers me about his letters is that he racks up the whole student body, 3,000 people, for the actions of a few. It's no darn wonder the public has a dim view of college students. When one of your own faculty calls the school mediocre, the student body mediocre, and a whole lot of other things mediocre, (I wonder if his salary is mediocre. We'll probably find out in his next letter.) the public can't help but judge students as a bad lot.

I DON'T suppose the whole student body of Yale was condemned when those few students jeered and heckled Defense Secretary McNamara recently. By the same token, I don't think a faculty member should condemn the whole student body for what a few people do. The story is always the same, except that one side is generally played up more. Negativism will always win out if it is allowed to. I suggest to Mr. Lane that in his future letters to the editor, if he must point his finger, point it, not wave it around.

Fund offers nurses interest free loans

A limited number of interest-free loans will be made available from the "Blanche Hunter Memorial Fund" to Saint Teresa and Winona State nursing students. Funds from the estate of the late Blanche Hunter are intended "To assist all worthy, sincere, and serious-minded individuals, male and female, who are engaged in or continuing the profession of nursing."

AS TRUSTEE of the estate, the First National Bank of Winona has the authority to grant these loans at its discretion. Although the bank is not bound by Scholarship and Finance Committee recommendations, these recommendations will be a major consideration. Nursing students should also have a B average to apply.

Should the balance in the trust ever exceed $50,000, it will be divided between the two colleges and used for advancing the nursing program in the respective schools.

Warriorettes highlight game

The Warriorettes presented their first performance of the basketball season on Tuesday when WSC play La Crosse in Memorial Hall at 7:30 p.m.

Donna DeGise, Carol Nessler, and Kathy Boettcher, the choreographers, demonstrated their skills in handling the basketball in a dance routine.

THE REST of the Warriorettes' halftime entertainment will include a precision drill to the music of the Globe Trotters, "Sweet Georgia Brown."

Officers plan dorm activities

"More activity than ever before," were Paul Hodge's words, as president of the Men's Dormitory Council.

The new dorm council, with Wayne Medcraft as vice president and Steven Joswick as secretary-treasurer, has already tried to prove their boast as the dormitories have had homecoming displays and featuring "tube steak" dinners on several Sunday evenings. Newspapers and magazines are also provided for each wing of the dormitories.

Other activities planned are cram lunches for winter quarter finals and possibly a ping pong tournament.

Correction: IM Football

Several errors in the IM Football championship story, as appeared in the last issue of the WINONAN, have been brought to our attention.

Foremost, it was the Morey Maulers who won, 24-21, over the Raiders. There were 250 boys on 16 teams, and it was under the direction of Coach Stevenson.

Swimmers open Saturday, first home meet Tuesday

Coach John Martin and the Winona State swim team will open their season this Saturday by traveling to Oshkosh, Wisconsin to take part in the yearly Titan Relays. Always a tough meet this might just be the chance the tankmen need to prove themselves the best in the Mid-West amidst eight of the finest schools in this region.

Last year the aquatic team finished fourth in this big event behind first place and NAIA national champion Macalester College of St. Paul. Loyola of Chicago was second, host team Oshkosh third, and the Warriors in fourth. Next came a three-way tie for fifth place between Lawrence University, Michigan Tech, and North Central Michigan. The University of Wisconsin at Milwaukee wound up in last place.

This year's team is said to be the best and strongest team that Coach Martin has developed in his four years while at Winona State and is a sure bet to improve in this relay event on Saturday.

With 11 lettermen and 10 experienced frosh swimmers this is without a doubt the year to watch the Warriors stroke and dive their way to a conference championship, as well as an excellent national finish, if not the coveted ranking itself.

Cagers take first home game, even record

Whether it was good team work or the turkey is still in doubt but the Warrior basketball team returned from Thanksgiving vacation and scored its first season victory, at home, against River Falls 83-80.

Although River Falls' sophomore shooting ace George Voss singled the nets with a dazzling 39 points the Warriors were able to utilize a balanced scoring attack and some Falcon mechanical errors to direct the victory for Winona.

Although much of the first half was a see-saw battle with both teams switching leads, the Warrior led with a narrow 40-39 score at half-time. Starting the second half it looked as though the Warriors would never get back in the ball game as poor shooting and guard Dave Meisner in foul trouble rocked the team for quite a spell. But it was transfer student Mike DeWyre that saved the day as he came from the bench to spur a flurry of great shots accounting for 17 points. With just over three minutes to play in the game Winona's Little All-American guard Dave Meisner came back in the lineup and sealed the victory for the Warriors.

In Tuesday's game, the cagers dropped La Crosse 88-82, to bring their season's record to 2-1.

In the first season and away game of the year the Warrior hardcourt men found it hard going against Stevens Point College, Wisconsin, and lost 82-74. Capitalizing on Winona's poor shooting and many mistakes Stevens Point was able to garnish its victory and handed the Warriors their first defeat of the year.

However, it wasn't until the fourth quarter that the Warriors went behind and lost the contest. The trouble came when center Mike Jeresek fouled out of the game with 12 points and left Jim Bloom the 6-6, 230 lb. center of Stevens Point out to score and help the winners cause.

WPE wins swim meet

They can't dance and they can't plow, but oh how they do swim. In fact, they swim so well that on Saturday, November 12, the Women's Physical Education department here at Winona both hosted and won its first home-invitational swim meet. The schools favoring the girls with competition were Mankato and Gustavus Adolphus. Mankato finished second with 69 points, Gustavus with 46, and winner Winona with 72.

Although Mankato lead the field of 13 events with 7 first places Winona dominated the second and third places to bring about the victory.

Annette Richardson was the individual standout for Winona placing in three different events. Miss Richardson placed first in the 25 yd. butterfly with an excellent time of 16.2, a second in the 50 yd. butterfly in 37.6, and a third in the 100 yd. individual medley in 1:31.5. The winning time in the latter event was 1:19.8. Another first came by way of Rose Frenette's win in the 25 yd. freestyle in 14.3, followed by Sue Kuchenmeister's 14.6 second place in the same event. Miss Frenette also captured a third in the 100 yd. freestyle also in 1:14.4.

Other double winners for Winona were Jeri Madsen and Jeanne Berndt. Mis Berndt's 19.6 second place in the 25 yd. breaststroke previewed a third 46.4 in the 50 yd. breaststroke. Miss Madsen swam for two second place finishes in both the 25 and times respectively were 17.2 and 39.1.

Outside the individual competition Winona placed twice with second place finishes in both the 100 yd. freestyle medley and the 100 yd. medley relay. In diving skills two girls for Winona placed first and Joyce Fenske a third.

The invitational meet was handled under the guidance of Miss Day and Mrs. Sprenger, coaches, and Miss Locks, Women's Intramural-Extramural Coordinator.

WHY WE CARRY GANT

There's more than fabric superiority in Gant. In addition, "needled-into the warp and woof of every Gant shirt" — there's flair-fit show — three vital in-herents that make all the difference when a man wears a Gant.

We chose Gant because they take shirt making seriously. They're hard to please (like we are) when it comes to fit of collar, its roll, its profile—how much it shows above the suit collar. They're fastidious about the way the body of the shirt drapes and folds. All must integrate to achieve that viable ingredient which gives comfort and aplomb. In substance, Gant shirts are keyed to the discerning tastes of well groomed men who appreciate quality. These men are our customers.
